CE Health Data Analysis Summary by Course Name, Rubric, and Course Number

Enrollment Period: 2019-2023 (not finished)
Courses in Certificate Series: Current (Green), Converted/Linked to Credit (Blue), Discontinued (Red)
Data Summary Source: CE Health Science Staff
Summary Date: 02/10/2023

Certificate Series/Course	Courses in Certificate Series:	Data Explanation
Medical Assistant Certificate Series	HLTH-5315 HLTH-5350 MDCA-1000 MDCA-1091 MDCA-2031 MDCA-2063 MEDA-1000 MEDA-5395 MEDA-5404 MEDA-5405 MEDA-5410 MEDC-5490	To best align with the Workforce Education Course Manual (WECM), core Medical Assistant courses were reassigned with MDCA rubrics in 2020. Beginning in 2021, an administrative decision was made to implement a taper-down, then discontinue method for transitioning the Medical Assistant Certificate Series out of CEHS. The program is now available as a credit only option. After reviewing the data, we strongly believe that the transition of this series led to the most detrimental effect on CEHS. As noted in the data report, a severe decline in enrollment and revenue followed.
Dental Assisting Certificate Series	DNTA-1015 DNTA-1042 DNTA-1060 DNTA-2000 DENT-5270 DENT-5275 DENT-5280 DENT-5285	To best align with the Workforce Education Course Manual (WECM), all dental assisting courses were transitioned from DENT to DNTA rubrics in 2022. The Dental Assisting Program Manager and the complete Dental Assisting Certificate Series are now being managed by the Dental Hygiene Program Director. Presently, enrollment, and revenue has declined.
Basic Life Support/CPR Courses	EMSP -1020 EMSP-1026 EMSP-1055 EMSP-2001 HLTH-5315	To best align with the Workforce Education Course Manual (WECM), all Basic Life Support and CPR related courses were transitioned from HLTH to EMSP rubrics. This course was a prerequisite for acceptance into the Medical Assistant Certificate Series. A decline in enrollment and revenue followed the transition.

Medical Billing and Medical Coding Certificate Series	HITT-1001 HITT-1005 HITT-1011 HITT-1013 HITT-1041 HITT-1053 HITT-2030 HITT-2030 HITT-2046 HPRS-2021 HPRS-2032 MDCA-1009 MEDC-5310 MEDC-5430 MEDC-5435 MEDC-5445 MEDC-5455 MEDC-5460 MEDC-5465 MEDC-5470 MEDC-5471 MEDC-5480 MEDC-5485 MEDC-5490 MDCA-1017 MDCA-1043 MDCA-1054 MDCA-1091 MDCA-2031	The Medical Coding Certificate Series has been linked to credit and is now managed by the Billing and Coding Program Director. Although the data analysis supports the idea that a steady decline occurred in CE Health Sciences post discontinuing and transitioning courses to credit, CEHS staff believe that it is essential to note that the department took a negative shift after an administrative decision was made to cancel the CE/Workforce mail catalog. Additionally, staff would like to add that a lack of adequate marketing resources diminished the department's ability to maintain visibility (especially considering being relocated). This led to the inability to reach the targeted student audience in their homes.
